Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 45 (c), (d), and (e), as amended on December 1, 2007:

(c) PROTECTING A PERSON SUBJECT TO A SUBPOENA.

(1) Avoiding Undue Burden or Expense; Sanctions. A party or attorney responsible for issuing and serving a subpoena must take reasonable steps to avoid imposing undue burden or expense on a person subject to the subpoena. The issuing court must enforce this duty and impose an appropriate sanction — which may include lost earnings and reasonable attorney's fees — on a party or attorney who fails to comply.

(2) Command to Produce Materials or Permit Inspection.

(A) Appearance Not Required. A person commanded to produce documents, not appear in person at the place of production or inspection unless also commanded to appear for a deposition, hearing, or trial.

(B) Objections. A person commanded to produce documents or tangible things or to permit inspection may serve on the party or attorney designated in the subpoena a written objection to inspecting, copying, testing or sampling any or all of the materials or to inspecting the premises — or to producing electronically stored information in the form or forms requested. The objection must be served before the earlier of the time specified for compliance or 14 days after the subpoena is served. If an objection is made, the following rules apply:

(i) At any time, on notice to the commanded person, the serving party may move the issuing court for an order compelling production or inspection.

(ii) These acts may be required only as directed in the order, and the order must protect a person who is neither a party nor a party's officer from significant expense resulting from compliance.

(3) Quashing or Modifying a Subpoena.

(A) When Required. On timely motion, the issuing court must quash or modify a subpoena that:

(i) fails to allow a reasonable time to comply;

(ii) requires a person who is neither a party nor a party's officer to travel more than 100 miles from where that person resides, is employed, or regularly transacts business in person — except that, subject to Rule 45(c)(3)(B)(iii), the person may be commanded to attend a trial by traveling from any such place within the state where the trial is held;

(iii) requires disclosure of privileged or other protected matter, if no exception or waiver applies; or

(iv) subjects a person to undue burden.

(B) When Permitted. To protect a person subject to or affected by a subpoena, the issuing court may, on motion, quash or modify the subpoena if it requires:

(i) disclosing a trade secret or other confidential research, development, or commercial information;

(ii) disclosing an unretained expert's opinion or information that does not describe specific occurrences in dispute and results from the expert's study that was not requested by a party; or

(iii) a person who is neither a party nor a party's officer to incur substantial expense to travel more than 100 miles to attend trial

(C) Specifying Conditions as an Alternative. In the circumstances described in Rule 45(c)(3)(B), the court may, instead of quashing or modifying a subpoena, order appearance or production under specified conditions if the serving party:

(i) shows a substantial need for the testimony or material that cannot be otherwise met without undue hardship; and

(ii) ensures that the subpoenaed person will be reasonably compensated.

(d) DUTIES IN RESPONDING TO A SUBPOENA.

(1) Producing Documents or Electronically Stored Information. These procedures apply to producing documents or electronically stored information:

(A) Documents. A person responding to a subpoena to produce documents must produce them as they are kept in the ordinary course of business or must organize and label them to correspond to the categories in the demand.

(B) Form for Producing Electronically Stored Information Not Specified. If a subpoena does not specify a form for producing electronically stored information, the person responding must produce it in a form or forms in which it is ordinarily maintained or in a reasonably usable form or forms.

(C) Electronically Stored Information Produced in Only One Form. The person responding need not produce the same electronically stored information in more than one form.

(D) Inaccessible Electronically Stored Information. The person responding need not provide discovery of electronically stored information from sources that the person identifies as not reasonably accessible because of undue burden or cost. On motion to compel discovery or for a protective order, the person responding must show that the information is not reasonably accessible because of undue burden or cost. If that showing is made, the court may nonetheless order discovery from such sources if the requesting party shows good cause, considering the limitations of Rule 26(b)(2)(C). The court may specify conditions for the discovery.

(2) Claiming Privilege or Protection.

(A) Information Withheld. A person withholding subpoenaed information under a claim that it is privileged or subject to protection as trial-preparation material must:

(i) expressly make the claim; and

(ii) describe the nature of the withheld documents, communications, or tangible things in a manner that, without revealing information itself privileged or protected, will enable the parties to assess the claim.

(B) Information Produced. If information produced in response to a subpoena is subject to a claim of privilege or of protection as trial-preparation material, the person making the claim may notify any party that received the information of the claim and the basis for it. After being notified, a party must promptly return, sequester, or destroy the specified information and any copies it has; must not use or disclose the information until the claim is resolved; must take reasonable steps to retrieve the information if the party disclosed it before being notified; and may promptly present the information to the court under seal for a determination of the claim. The person who produced the information must preserve the information until the claim is resolved.

(e) CONTEMPT.

The issuing court may hold in contempt a person who, having been served, fails without adequate excuse to obey the subpoena. A nonparty's failure to obey must be excused if the subpoena purports to require the nonparty to attend or produce at a place outside the limits of Rule 45(c)(3)(A)(ii).

INSTRUCTIONS

A. In responding to the present subpoenas, you are required to furnish such information as is available to you that is within your possession custody or control, including but not limited to information in the possession of your agents, representatives, or any other person or entity acting on your behalf.

B. If you have no writings, recordings, documents, or other information responsive to a particular category, please so state in writing. Additionally, if you have documents responsive to a particular category which you claim are privileged, please state to in writing and please produce all non-privileged documents. For each document that you claim is privileged, please state: (i) the claimed privilege; (ii) the nature of the document (e.g. letter, memorandum, email, notes, etc.); (iii) its date; (iv) its author(s), recipient(s), and the employer and position of each person identified; and (v) the identity of each and every person, other than those identified previously, who was sent or provided with the document or information contained therein.

DEFINITIONS

For purposes of this Attachment, Nitto Denko America, Inc. should use the following definitions for the terms used herein.

A. "Nitto Denko" "you," and "your" as used hereto, means Nitto Denko America, Inc. Nitto Denko Corporation, all persons or entities acting on your behalf, and any Affiliates (as that term is defined herein), including but not limited to Nitto Denko Corporation.

B. "CMO" means Chi Mei Optoelectronics Corporation, and all persons or entities acting on its behalf.

C. "LG Display" and "Plaintiff" means LG Display Co., Ltd., formerly known as LG Philips LCD Co., Ltd., and all persons or entities acting or purporting to act on the behalf of LG Display Co., Ltd., and any Affiliates (as that term is defined herein) of LG Display Co., Ltd.

D. "AUO" means AU Optronics Corporation, and all persons or entities acting or purporting to act on AU Optronics Corporation's behalf, and any Affiliates (as that term is defined herein) of AU Optronics Corporation (including, for example, AU Optronics Corporation America).

E. "Affiliate(s)" means any partnerships, parents, subsidiaries, and divisions, and any corporation or other entity that controls, is controlled by, or is under common control with the identified corporation or entity.

F. "Communication" means, without limitation, every manner or means of statement, utterance, notation, disclaimer, transfer, or exchange of information between two or more persons of any nature whatsoever, by or to whomever, whether oral or written or whether face-to-face, by telephone, email, mail, personal delivery, or otherwise, including but not limited to, letters, correspondence, conversations, memoranda, dialogue, discussions, meetings, interviews, consultations, agreements, and other understandings.

G. The connectives "and," "or," and "and/or" shall be construed either disjunctively or conjunctively as necessary to bring within the scope of these document requests all information that might otherwise be construed to be outside of their scope.

H. "Concern" and "concerning" are used in their broadest sense and embrace all matter relating to, referring to, describing, discussing, evidencing, or constituting the referenced subject.

I. "Document" means all types of documents, electronically stored information, and things embraced within Federal Rules of Civil Procedure 34 and includes, without limitation, any writing and each original, or a copy in the absence of the original, and every copy bearing notes or markings not present on the original or copy, of the following items, however produced or reproduced, namely: books, accounting records of any nature whatsoever, agreements, communications, correspondence, facsimiles, telegrams, cable, telexes, memoranda, recordings, studies, summaries or records of telephone conversations, summaries or records of personal conversations or interviews, diaries, letters, forecasts, statistical statements, graphs, laboratory or engineering reports and records, notebooks, charts, plans, sketches, drawings, video tapes, films, slides, photographs, information bearing photographic products of any nature whatsoever, photo-records, microfilms, tape recordings, minutes or records of meetings or conferences, expressions or statements of policy, lists of persons attending meetings or conferences, reports or summaries of interviews, reports or summaries of investigations, opinions or reports of consultants, patent studies, opinions of counsel, records, reports, summaries of negotiations, sales literature of any nature whatsoever, brochures, catalogues, catalogue sheets, pamphlets, periodicals, advertisements, circulars or trade letters, press releases, trade releases, publicity releases, new product releases, reprints, drafts of any documents, working papers, indices, original or preliminary notes, email, sound recordings, computer printouts, floppy disks, hard drives, CD-ROM's, magnetic tapes, and any other data, database, server, or data compilations from which information can be obtained either directly, or, if necessary translated by you through detection devices into a reasonably usable form. The term document also refers to any tangible object other than a document as described above, and includes objects of every kind and nature such as, but not limited to, products, prototypes, models, and specimens.

J. "Person" means any natural person, firm, association, partnership, corporation, or other form of legal entity.

K. "The '352 Patent" means United States Patent No. 5,619,352, and all related applications, continuations, continuations-in-part, or patents issuing there from.

L. "Foreign Counterparts of the '352 Patent" means any patent applications filed anywhere in the world that claim priority in whole or in part to the '352 Patent, and any patents issuing there from.

M. The use of the singular form of any word includes the plural and vice versa.

DEPOSITION TOPICS

You are requested to produce witness(es) with knowledge concerning the following topics:

1. All documents that you produced in response to this subpoena.
2. Any correspondence, prior art, search, study, investigation, review, opinion, or analysis concerning the validity or invalidity, enforceability or unenforceability, infringement or non-infringement of any or all of the '352 Patent or Foreign Counterparts of the '352 Patent.
3. Your sales of optical and display materials used in wide viewing angle Liquid Crystal Display ("LCD") applications, including polarizers and compensators, including the products sold, the amount sold, the buyer, the date, and the cost of the products.

4. The design, components, manufacture, production and structure of optical and display materials used in wide viewing angle LCD applications, including polarizers and compensators, that you offer for sale or have sold.

5. Third party suppliers of materials or components used in the manufacture or production of optical and display materials used in wide viewing angle LCD applications, including polarizers and compensators, that you offer for sale or have sold.

6. Third parties that participate in the manufacture or production of optical and display materials used in wide viewing angle LCD applications, including polarizers and compensators, that you offer for sale or have sold.

7. Communications, meetings, and negotiations between you and AUO, CMO, and/or LGD concerning the '352 Patent or Foreign Counterparts of the '352 Patent (whether individually or as part of a portfolio) or optical and display materials that can be used in wide viewing angle LCD applications, including polarizers and compensators, including the identity and job descriptions of participants in such communications or meetings, and the substance of issues discussed or addressed.

8. Communications, meetings, and negotiations between you and any other person concerning the '352 Patent or the Foreign Counterparts of the '352 Patent (whether individually or as part of a portfolio), the identity and job descriptions of participants in such communications or meetings, and the substance of issues discussed or addressed.
